New Counsel For Probers Very Unlikely

ZWICKER TALKS

WASHINGTON (AP) — The McCarthy censure hearings ended Monday with Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) apparently defeated in a last-minute move to have the six investigating senators bring in a new staff of lawyers to guide them in writing their report.

The end of the nine-day-old inquiry came at 5:18 p.m. (EDT) after the last principal witness, Brig. Gen. Ralph W. Zwicker, testified he was "very much opposed" to the Army's promoting and honoring discharging Maj. Irving Peress, whom McCarthy has called a "Fifth Amendment Communist."

Zwicker declined to express an opinion on that subject last Feb. 18 — the day McCarthy is accused of abusing the general while questioning him about Peress, a dental officer who had refused to answer McCarthy's questions about alleged Communist activity.

Monday, however, with a Pentagon lawyer sitting beside him, Zwicker gave his opinion in vigorous tones, and just as firmly declared he was "very much opposed" to any officer in the United States Army invoking the Fifth Amendment.

Reason Asked

McCarthy's lawyer, Edward Bennett Williams, called on Zwicker to say why he didn't answer these questions when McCarthy first put them to him—and thus prevent, the lawyer intimated, much of the McCarthy-Zwicker unpleasantness.

Zwicker replied: "I am much more familiar with proceedings and hearings—and what I could say and what I couldn't say—now than I was on Feb. 18."

The charge of abusing Zwicker is one of five groups of accusations filed against McCarthy by Sen. Flanders (R-Vt.) and two other senators—accusations that have brought upwards of 250,000 words of testimony from 10 witnesses.

Chairman Watkins (R-Utah) brought the public hearings to an end after the McCarthy side proposed "independent" counsel be brought in to help draft the committee's report, contending the present committee lawyers inevitably have assumed the role of prosecutors.

Williams, the McCarthy counsel, argued it would be expecting "superhuman" performance of the present lawyers. E. Wallace Chadwick and Guy de Faria, who were asked to decide impartially on the various conflicts of law and fact.

Watkins said, however, that the committee and its staff have been dedicated from the first to a let-the-chips-fall-where-they-may gathering of the facts.

The 68-year-old chairman did not formally reject Williams' motion. But he and the other committee members voiced complete confidence in Chadwick, de Faria and their assistants. Watkins said there was "no indication, in my opinion, that they haven't tried to be fair."

McCarthy plainly took it for granted his last-minute move had been defeated. He said in an interview before television cameras outside the hearing room that he didn't like the idea of "the district attorneys" sitting on the jury.

Planning Board Flips Hot Coals Into Lap Of Council

... Asks Re-Submission Of Parking Plan

By BILL DOBLER

Star Staff Writer

The City Planning Commission tossed a few hot coals into the lap of the City Council as it recommended several roads to pursue in the coming fiscal year.

Summarizing its past year's activity and looking to the future, the Commission recommended that the Council re-study the city's parking problem with the aim in mind of submitting another off-street parking proposal to the voters at the soonest possible date.

The Commission noted that the proposal for the city to establish off-street parking lots that was defeated by the voters at the May special election contained a number of objectionable features. Those shortcomings, the Commission recommended, should be corrected.

In the meantime, the Commission asked that other means to provide more parking be taken. Those means mentioned included the widening of streets where feasible and the limiting of curb cuts and other actions which cut down parking space.

The Commission also recommended the passage during the coming year of the proposed minimum standard housing ordinance. This ordinance has drawn fire from various quarters in the past.

The housing measure, not yet sent to the Council from the Commission, sets up regulations governing the amount of space, light, heat, air, bath facilities, etc. that must be a minimum part of any living quarters. The city would have authority to condemn where the requirements were not met.

A push for completion of the southeast diagonal to 48th and Van Dorn was also a part of the Commission's recommendations for the new year along with a suggestion for the start of the northeast diagonal. Plans for the letting of a contract on the first leg of the southeast diagonal, from 21st and K to 27th and D, are expected to be completed soon.

The Commission stated that first steps on the northeast diagonal should be an improvement district on 17th from R to Holdrege and the widening of east O from 27th to Cotner.

Europe Unity Agreed

Britain To Play Full Part In Peace Plan

BONN, Germany (AP) — British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and Chancellor Konrad Adenauer said Monday they have reached complete agreement to push for European unity "in which the United Kingdom can play a full part."

Eden and Adenauer issued a confident joint communique on their two-day talks here on the European situation. Then the Briton flew on to Rome to seek Italian views on achieving unity now that France has signed the European Defense Community plan.

Serious

Murphy and U. S. High Commissioner James B. Conant conferred promptly with Adenauer. The serious nature of their talks was emphasized by a surprise disclosure the chancellor will postpone a foreign policy speech, he originally scheduled for delivery Tuesday when the Bundestag, the lower House of Parliament, reconvenes.

Murphy had told newsmen his trip had nothing to do with Adenauer's speech. However, it appeared events pertaining to European defense were happening too swiftly for the chancellor to make his address. Adenauer was reported to have told Socialist leader Erich Ollenhauer, who heads the main opposition in Parliament, that the visits of Eden and Murphy made it impractical to go ahead with the statement of policy. No new date was announced for the speech.

The Belgrade Radio said in a broadcast Murphy will visit Yugoslavia. The broadcast quoted Tanjug, the semi-official Yugoslav news agency, as saying the American diplomat will confer with Yugoslav leaders on economic relations and "other current problems."

Utmost Vigor

The Eden-Adenauer communique said the two statesmen had held a thorough discussion of the European situation and "found themselves in complete agreement."

"In particular," the communique continued, "they will pursue with the utmost vigor their efforts to achieve European unity in which the United Kingdom can play a full part. They are convinced that it is only through unity of the free nations of Europe that the necessary conditions can be created to ensure a stable peace."

McCOOK, Neb. — About 225 persons from McCook and the surrounding towns Monday night honored Frank Morrison, Democratic candidate for the First District Congressional seat, at a non-partisan testimonial dinner.

The capacity crowd at St. Patrick's Catholic Church heard three speakers advocate bipartisan backing for Morrison in the November election.

Marion Morgan of Elwood, immediate past president of the South Platte Union Chamber of Commerce, lauded Morrison for his work as promoter of flood control and irrigation projects.

The Rev. Lavern Hicks, pastor of McCook Methodist Church, challenged Republicans to cross party lines "if you believe in the two-party system."

The Rev. George Peek, of the McCook Episcopal Church, of which Morrison is a member, talked of Morrison's qualifications for the post, adding that it would be "a fine gesture for this section to support Morrison."

The Rev. Francis McCullough of St. Patrick's Church gave the benediction, and Jack Molsbee gave an organ recital during the dinner.

As a surprise to Morrison, snapshots of his childhood were shown to the crowd.

Among those seated at the speaker's table was Mrs. George W. Morris, widow of the late Sen. George Norris.

MRS. SMALL... husband was acquitted in slaying of lover.

MRS. SMALL SEEKS A DIVORCE

DETROIT (AP) — Mrs. Edith S. Small has filed a divorce suit against her husband, Dr. Kenneth Small, recently acquitted in the murder of her playboy lover, the Detroit News said Monday.

The newspaper said Mrs. Small filed the suit Thursday, the day after her dentist husband was freed from Ionia State Hospital where he had been detained pending outcome of sanity hearings.

Mrs. Small, 30, is reported out of town visiting friends. Her 31-year-old husband is living at his home in Detroit with the couple's three young sons.

Dr. Small was acquitted in the slaying of Jules Lack, 45, of New York.

Lack was shot to death at a swanky Lake Michigan summer home where he and Mrs. Small had been visiting friends over Memorial Day.

Dr. Small was acquitted on a first-degree murder charge. He pleaded that his wife's friendship with Lack had driven him temporarily insane.

Rock-Ribbed GOP State Gives Muskie Big Win

Republicans Return Margaret Smith For A Second Term In Senate

By BILL LANGZETTEL

PORTLAND, Maine (Tuesday) (AP) — Democrats broke a 20-year Republican grip on Maine by electing 39-year-old Edmund S. Muskie governor in yesterday's state election—the nation's first.

Muskie, a Waterville lawyer who never sought statewide office before, beat Gov. Burton M. Cross for reelection to a second term by more than 20,000 votes.

Cross conceded that he had become the only GOP governor in modern times to lose a second term bid.

Their totals, in 582 of the state's 626 precincts: Muskie 126,698, Cross 106,345.

The GOP, which asked for bigger majorities than ever to help President Eisenhower keep control of Congress, had to be content with Sen. Margaret Chase Smith's re-election by 38,000.

The GOP also elected all three Republican congressmen.

Heavy Voting

In spite of hurricane Edna, which raked the state's most densely peopled areas over the weekend, the voting was heavy.

The 582-precinct total was 233,034. In 1952, a presidential year, 248,441 ballots were cast. In the last "off year," 1950, the total was 240,127.

Cross won a first term in 1952 with 51.7 per cent of the vote, but 151 independent Republicans got 35.1 per cent and a Democrat 33.2.

In 1930, Sen. Frederick G. Payne was re-elected governor with 60.4 per cent over a Democrat and an independent Democrat.

Cross said, in conceding, that he had promised Muskie "every assistance I can give in preparation for the next term."

Sen. Smith defeated a political neophyte—Colby College history professor Paul A. Fullam. She had 122,618 votes to Fullam's 83,350 in 580 precincts.

Rep. Robert Hale, seeking a seventh term in the First District, had a narrow squeak. In 154 of 156

'Victory Is Proof'

WASHINGTON (INS) — Republican National Chairman Leonard W. Hall said the Maine election showed that candidates supporting the Eisenhower program "have the enthusiastic backing" of the voters.

The GOP leader termed the victory of Sen. Margaret Chase Smith and three GOP incumbents re-elected to the House of Representatives "proof that the Eisenhower administration definitely holds the favor of the American people."

precincts, he polled 47,234 votes to 43,569 for James C. Oliver (D).

In the Second District, Rep. Charles P. Nelson defeated Thomas E. Delahanty, who conceded, with 28,399 to 29,363 in 192 of 209 precincts.

Rep. Clifford G. McIntire won re-election in the Third District with 28,496 votes to 18,251 for Kenneth B. Colbath in 219 of 261 districts.

Some of the missing precincts won't be available for some time due to communications interruptions by the hurricane.

Mrs. Smith, who never has lost an election, said she hopes her victory "will give impetus to a national trend in November for the election of a Republican congress for President Eisenhower."

Most Vulnerable

The resurgent Democrats, in their most spirited campaign in years, concentrated their efforts behind Muskie in the belief that Cross was the most vulnerable of the GOP candidates.

The governor made appointments that alienated many followers. He also, Muskie said, backtracked on several campaign issues, and indulged in what the Democrats called "hit and run tactics."

The gubernatorial race was the closest of any in the 20 years since Democrats last named a governor. Muskie went ahead fast when the populous mill city of Biddeford, always Democratic, gave him a 5,000 vote margin.

Adjutant Gen. normally Republican, also went for Muskie—2,173 to 1,515.

Waterville, Muskie's home town, gave him big majorities in incomplete ward returns.

Farmer Dies In Accident On Tractor

Lincoln Star Special

COLUMBUS — A polio-crippled farmer, Eugene F. Rohatsch, 42, of Monroe, was killed almost instantly late Monday afternoon when the tractor he was driving flipped over and pinned him.

The single vehicle fatality occurred two and a half miles north of Monroe on a county road intersection.

Safety Patrolman Earl Dughman said that Rohatsch "evidently lost control of his tractor while attempting to make a left turn."

"The road he turned on to was a hill that went down sharply," Dughman said.

Rohatsch's wife just happened on the scene a few minutes after the accident occurred. She was taken to relatives suffering from a heart attack. The patrolman said. It was not known whether the accident was caused by the partial paralysis of the Monroe farmer, a father of two children.

9 States Hold Primaries Today

Lineup For Nov. 2 Near Completion

Five Senate And 92 House Seats At Stake

By The Associated Press

Primaries in nine states Tuesday, featuring nominations to five Senate and 92 House seats and to six governorships, will just about complete the lineup for the Nov. 2 general election.

After today only Rhode Island and New York will choose candidates.

Maine held its general election Monday.

With most incumbents who are seeking renomination unopposed, national interest in today's primaries centered on the Democratic Senate races in Colorado and Massachusetts and a three-way Republican senatorial battle for a New Hampshire two-year term. Also on the ballot are full-term Senate nominations in New Hampshire and Minnesota.

Governors In Six States

Governors will be nominated in Colorado, Massachusetts, Minnesota, New Hampshire, Vermont and Wisconsin. House candidates only will be picked in New York, Utah and Washington.

Of the 92 House seats at stake in the nine states, 46 Republican and 24 Democratic incumbents are unopposed for renomination.

In the five Senate races, Sens. Styles Bridges (R-NH) and Leverett Saltonstall (R-Mass) are unopposed for renomination and Sen. Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn) is regarded as an easy winner.

The big Senate contest is for the Democratic nomination to the post being vacated voluntarily by Sen. Edwin Johnson of Colorado. Johnson is unopposed for the Democratic nomination for governor, a job he held for two terms before becoming a senator 18 years ago.

The two candidates in the Democratic race for Johnson's seat are John A. Carroll of Denver, former U. S. House member, and Mayor Quigg Newton of Denver. The Republicans have named unopposed candidates—Lt. Gov. Gordon Allot for the Senate and 32-year-old state Sen. Donald G. Brozman for governor.

3-Way Fight In N. H.

In New Hampshire, Sen. Robert W. Upton is in a three-way fight with Rep. Norris Cotton and Wesley Powell for Republican nomination to fill out the remaining two years of the term of the late Sen. Charles W. Tobey. Upton is now serving by appointment and political writers tagged the election a tossup.

State Rep. Stanley G. Betley and Mayor Laurence M. Pickett of Keene are seeking the Democratic nomination to the short term in New Hampshire and four candidates are seeking the nomination to oppose Bridges in November.

In Massachusetts, Foster Furcolo, state treasurer and former U. S. House member, is favored to win, over two opponents, the Democratic senatorial nomination and the right to face Saltonstall in November. Furcolo's opponents are John I. Fitzgerald, whom Saltonstall defeated in 1948, and Joseph L. Murphy, former state senator.

In Minnesota, three Republicans are seeking the senatorial nomination. State Treasurer Val Bjornson is considered to have an edge over his two rivals, Richard S. Wilcox and Arthur D. Russell. Humphrey was expected to defeat A. B. Gilbert and Harold Strom for the Democratic nomination.

Construction Of Sidewalk Is Approved

The City Council has approved construction of a sidewalk in the much disputed area on the west side of Winthrop Rd from Plymouth to Van Dorn.

The walk ordered in will be constructed in accordance with city ordinance—a four foot wide walk four feet back from the curb line. The District Court has entered a decree, to which the city consented, enjoining the city from constructing the previously planned three foot wide walk along the curb line.

In a summary judgment by Judge Paul White, the city was also enjoined from issuing sidewalk contractors certificates against the properties of the 14 residents and suit plaintiffs.

The action arose from a City Council order of January, 1953, by which property owners in the area were to construct sidewalks.

There is no question of the city's authority to order in the new walk, said Assistant City Attorney Jack Pace. While the property involved was built up without sidewalks, he said, the fact remains that the law requiring sidewalks was in existence at all time and property owners were bound to follow that law.

The city will not be liable for any damages with construction of the four foot walk, Pace said.

The order for the four foot walk passed the Council with a four to two vote, Councilman Rees Wilkins not present. Mayor Clark Jeary voted against the order, along with Councilman Hugh Thorne, on the grounds that the sidewalk will destroy the valuable trees and shrubbery in its path.

Typhoon Hits Jap Mainland

28 Die, Thousands Are Left Homeless, 3 Cities Evacuated

TOKYO (Tuesday) (AP)—Japan's mightiest typhoon in 20 years blew itself out in the Japan Sea today. Indications were the toll from yesterday's crushing blow would fall far below pre-storm fears.

The National Rural Police reported 28 dead, 68 injured, 16 missing and more than 11,000 homeless on the southernmost home island of Kyushu.

The toll was expected to mount as communications were restored in the remoter areas.

The U. S. Air Force downgraded the typhoon to a tropical storm with winds of 55 miles an hour as it moved west of Honshu Island across the Sea of Japan.

At its peak the typhoon packed 125 mile-per-hour winds.

The storm, moving northeast at 30 miles an hour, was expected to hit the northernmost home island of Hokkaido late tonight, but with far less punch than it smacked Kyushu.

Winds of 110 miles an hour along a storm front 300 miles wide hit Kyushu, bringing cloudbursts and tidal waves. Winds fell to 90 miles an hour as the storm moved inland.

Kyodo said authorities ordered all citizens to flee three southern cities with a combined population of nearly 300,000. All three were threatened with destruction from pounding seas or floods or both.

They were Miyazaki, 120,000, and Nobeoka, 88,000, on Kyushu's exposed eastern coast, and Miyakonojo, 75,000, several miles inland.

The newspaper Yomiuri said a flash flood hit Miyakonojo and may have all but wiped it out.

Police said Prof. Richard Holcomb, instructor in police science at the state university of Iowa, will aid in questioning a 30-year-old salesman who admits he saw Jimmie the night the boy disappeared.

The salesman was arrested soon after the disappearance. He maintains he knows nothing of the boy's fate.

Auditorium Final Plans Authorized

The City Council moved ahead with the proposed new municipal auditorium with approval of preliminary plans and the authorization for preparation of final plans on the structure.

The Associated Auditorium Architects now have 90 days time in which to present to the Council final plans and specifications on which bids will be received. These, according to preliminary drawings, will be plans for a multi-purpose building with a main theater and full basement. In the preliminary stage, the building is estimated at a cost of $2,509,000, including $27,500 for contingencies and all fees.

Mayor Clark Jeary stated that the Council has received general approval of the plans from the city's special auditorium, consultant Benjamin C. Moore of Spokane, Wash.

Defense Of Vital U.S. Interests Promised

POLICY OF AMERICA IS RESTATED

... By President

DENVER (U) — President Eisenhower declared Monday that American policy in the Communist-troubled Far East continues to be defense of "the vital interests of the United States wherever they may arise."

The President told newsmen at the summer White House that policy was reaffirmed at the top secret meeting of the National Security Council here.

Also reaffirmed, he added, was America's determination "where our vital interests demand it" to support its friends in the Far East "in their security and in their own interests."

Eisenhower said that at the Security Council meeting "no specific decisions were advanced for action" on such matters as whether the United States will help defend the Chinese Nationalist island of Quemoy, which has been under shellfire from the Red China mainland.

Along with the shelling, which has killed two American Army officers, the Reds have been doing a lot of talking about "liberating" the island of Formosa, the Nationalists' main stronghold.

Secretary of State Dulles, on arrival in Washington Monday morning from the council meeting in Denver, said American policy is to keep the Chinese Communists guessing whether this country will fight for Quemoy.

Dulles told a news conference here earlier it is up to the military "in the first instance" to say what Nationalist islands to defend in carrying out America's basic decision to defend Formosa against any Red assault.

Dulles also said U.S. military might will block any Communist move to take Formosa.

Eisenhower made his off-the-cuff statement on Sunday's council meeting before a battery of newsreel and television cameras and microphones in a conference room in the Lowry Air Force Base administration building, his vacation headquarters.

Wearing casual clothes—brown sports coat and slacks, light green shirt and brown tie—the President said the council meeting, "the first outside of Washington, was unprecedented; but it was natural."

Dulles, he noted, had just returned from the Orient and, "We met in order that all of us together could have the benefit of his observations and the details of his report."

Near-Riot Casualty Still Hospitalized

COLUMBUS, Neb. (U) — The only casualty of a near-riot involving soldiers bivouacked near here was expected to be released from the hospital soon.

Hospital officials said Thomas Tuley, Davis, Okla., was in "good" condition after suffering a head injury in the fighting.

The soldiers were members of a unit that bivouacked here while en route to Camp McCoy, Wis., from Camp Carson, Colo.

Civil and military authorities and members of the Columbus National Guard unit were needed to halt the disturbance.

Mayor Milton Wagner said that two more military units plan to bivouac here later this month but added that the city would be "off limits" for these men.

Sprague Joins State Game Commission

Leon A. Sprague, Red Cloud lawyer, was appointed to the State Game Commission by Governor Crosby.

Sprague, 48-year-old Democrat, succeeds W. O. Baldwin, Hebron, whose term expired Sept. 6. Baldwin also is a Democrat.

State law requires that not more than four of the seven commissioners may be of the same political party.

Sprague was born at Aurora and was admitted to the practice of law in 1930.

Baldwin was not eligible for re-appointment, since commission members are limited to one five-year term.

Mandamus Action For Alley Grading Fails

John P. Rutt of 328 G has been denied in Lancaster District Court his mandamus action by which he sought to compel the city of Lincoln to grade an alley between 3rd and 4th, G and H.

He had alleged the alley was "so obstructed by rubbish and dirt" that was raised above adjacent properties, causing rain to flood the properties and undermine buildings.

The alternative writ was denied and Rutt's petition dismissed by Judge Paul White's order.

Three-Reappointed

Gov. Crosby Monday announced re-appointment of Mrs. Love Cramer Boothe of Fremont to the board of cosmetology examiners for a three-year term.

These were re-appointed to the Nebraska Potato Development Committee for a two-year term: Vern A. Ziemann and Fred O'Bannon of Gering and Dr. Matt Felton, Alliance.

Waiting For Benson

Nebraska Republican party workers will meet at Norfolk Thursday to run off their scheduled post primary convention.

The party's nominees having already been named and the campaign issues by now pretty well settled it follows that a post-primary convention must largely be devoted to a general tuning up of the campaign work machine—an important but routine task.

But there will be a convention highlight, Ezra Taft Benson, secretary of agriculture and the apostle of austerity for the farmer, will be present. He will make a speech and since he has no apologies for his program it is to be assumed that he will set forth why he thinks the farmers should welcome doing without. Mr. Benson will not be given a hard time in Nebraska for two reasons. One is that he will be among party supporters whose function it is to plug for whatever the party does. The other is that Nebraska treats its guests with unwavering hospitality and has always maintained a proper respect for those in high public office, which is as it should be.

The burden then of full coverage of the agricultural problem is up to Mr. Benson. He is the planner and the deer. If his plans call for a substantial reduction in Nebraska's annual income then it would be timely since Nebraska lives under economic law and must take in at least equal to that which it pays out, if he would proceed further to tell his Nebraska listeners what he has in mind for them to do to make up for their loss. What is to be our alternative assignment?

Mr. Benson might also elaborate to a point of full clarity on this matter of mounting regulation of the farmer in his department's avowed efforts to relieve the man of the soil of federal regimentation. Ordinarily a captive en route to freedom does not proceed from the bull pen in the direction of the solitary confinement.

No doubt Mr. Benson has given due thought to both these things and should have comforting answers. But since Nebraskans are a little unclear on these trends he could do his cause unending good by touching up those points.

Losing The Fight

The week end brought in its expected but unwanted harvest of the maimed and the dead—the price of negligence on our highways.

Let us pause and reflect a moment upon whither we are going.

Upward each year moves the volume of protest against useless death. And upward each year rises the total number of victims. Nebraska in 1954 is outdoing Nebraska of 1953. There is something seriously wrong in this. Campaigns for safety just as campaigns for other desirable things ought to work. When one is as persistent and as determined and so long-lived as this for traffic safety loses ground each year, it is a good sign that the real controls are not being touched.

It can be said of our approach to safe driving that it appeals to the prudent and the thoughtful who do not compose the problem. But patently it has not penetrated to the indifferent, the incompetent or the thoughtless and they are at the root of the trouble.

Traffic casualties do not follow the rule of the majority. It is a matter where the minority controls. Public opinion is only partially effective.

If 90 per cent of a community who always have been careful and prudent resolve to be even more so, the negligent 10 per cent have a way of remaining exempt and they are the ones, of course, who hold the power over security to life and property.

One is forced to the conclusion that the laws controlling who shall sit behind the wheel need a general overhauling. If traffic safety is to get anywhere, then it must cease to be a matter of who is old enough and healthy enough to drive a car. It must take into consideration who is emotionally safe behind a wheel. Certainly a driver, be he a mechanical wizard, is no person to be allowed on the highway if he cannot control his impulses or if he is underdeveloped in regard for the safety and welfare of others. Only the fit and the responsible should be permitted to take charge of such an instrument as an automobile.

Certainly determinations of fitness can be reached. The civil Aeronautics Administration has made great headway in achieving maximum safety in the air. The military establishments have done enviable work in that field. States could do equally better with car driving.

Penalties for negligence also need stiffening. It is not enough to have adequate insurance together with minor punishments.

It seems that uncontrolled people feel little pressure either from public opinion or the mild restraints of existing laws. Perhaps the prospect of stiff jail sentences or stern removal of driving rights would achieve the breakthrough that present pressures have not achieved.

But at least it is time for a complete reappraisal to the problem of traffic safety. As we are going, we are losing the fight. And it is a fight that must not be lost.

Looks Like Cleveland

As all good baseball fans know by now the New York Yankees will lose the 1954 American League pennant to Cleveland unless providence unexpectedly intervenes, and providence right now seems to be busy with other matters.

The Yankees have won the pennant so many times the possession of it has almost become a national institution and one of the walls of the American way of life. And the Cleveleans have fired and fallen back so many times that that, too, is a part of the pattern.

No doubt the parvenu Cleveland club welcomes a shattering of precedent and many light-thinking fans over the country join in the heresy, but we imagine that the pensive people including the management of the New York Yankees will see in it the signs of American decay and will fall into a chiding mood.

Be that as it may, those many of us who are lacking in appreciation of true and tried things, will find the world series no less exciting and will give full attention to its play-by-play proceedings at the expense of real duties as always. That's one precedent that hasn't been molested or upset.

Saved By Law

Princeton, N. J., finds mass produced housing offensive and has passed ordinances that says it is all right to build houses, but no two of them can look alike.

Princeton is not going to take any chances. If there is any danger of people living in look-alike houses becoming look-alikes and act-alikes the Princeton residents will be protected from that. Their future as differentiated individuals is, for the time being, safe.

Most people will take their chances. It hasn't ever been proven that red wall paper makes reds or that monotonous houses makes monotonous neighbors. The difference or similarity of people in the past has had more to do with the kind of houses they could afford and no one ever suffered a personality relapse building a home of improved accommodations.

EDC Death Greatest Gain For Communists

WASHINGTON — Shortly before President Eisenhower called his National Security Council meeting in Denver, Pentagon advisers had begun to get some appreciation of what cutting off military aid to France would mean. The picture was not a happy one. And it looks less happy every day.

It is all very easy for Secretary Dulles to talk about an "agonizing reappraisal" of aid to France and for senators to spout off about getting tough. But when the military men spread a map of Europe before them, things look different.

What they see on that map is a network of air bases, docks, warehouses, pipelines, highways, auxiliary fuel depots, supply dumps carefully installed under the direction of the United States, all leading east and all calculated to prevent invasion by the red army. This network cost the American taxpayer a cool one billion dollars.

To take it up and put it down somewhere else will cost another billion. Furthermore the problem is: where else can these supply lines be laid?

U.S. military experts are skeptical about putting them in Germany. If we bet all our chips on Germany, almost anything can happen. Chancellor Adenauer is nearing 80 and can't last forever. West Germany is almost certain to be united with Communist East Germany, after which — what? Who will control?

Those are some of the "agonizing reappraisals" taking place right now.

TRAGIC DIPLOMACY

General Beette Smith, the hard-working retiring undersecretary of state, has been saying that we "oversold" EDC, that EDC wasn't as important as we thought it was.

But the experts who have to plan our defenses don't agree. Nor do the realistic diplomats. Actually the killing of EDC is the greatest triumph Moscow has accomplished in the cold war, a greater triumph than the men in the Kremlin ever expected. We can talk all we want about peace around Suez and a new oil agreement in Iran, but the tragic fact is that these are peanuts compared with our diplomatic defeat in western Europe.

Note 1—One of Dulles's mistakes was sizing up Mendes-France as a great man after only one day's conference with him. Now Dulles is sore as blazes, thinks Mendes-France sold out EDC to Moscow in return for a deal with Molotov for a truce in Indo-China.

MARQUIS CHILDS

African Colonies Hold French Key

WASHINGTON—In her North African colonies France has an important source of men and raw materials which, if lost, would mean a serious and perhaps crippling blow. Involved, too, are pride and prestige linked with this last segment of the French empire.

That is why debate in the National Assembly over reforms in Tunisia and perhaps later in Morocco can stir forces sufficiently powerful to bring down the present government. It is not alone the pocketbook nerve that is touchy. It is the position of France, as a world power that many Frenchmen feel is at stake.

The haunting fear, seldom expressed publicly but in the background of every action and every decision, that Germany will once again out-strip France militarily and industrially helps to explain the intensity of feeling on the North African issue. So reforms have been delayed and delayed again, and now more and more French troops are being deployed in the protectorates to try to insure that these possessions can be held with force if the reforms are abandoned, as they have been in the past, or if they fail of acceptance.

This is not the first time that France has tried to suppress by force the rising and evermore unruly tide of nationalism. Toward the end of World War II the French tried to hang onto their mandate, with economic privileges it gave them, in Syria and Lebanon. They went so far as to shell undefended cities. But they were forced out, thereby losing not only their political but also their economic position in these two Middle Eastern countries.

In 1946 they undertook, largely with Foreign Legion and African troops, to suppress the rebellion led by Communist-trained Ho Chi Minh in their colony of Indo-China. They failed to give the Indo-Chinese on their side the measures of independence and military participation that might have won their allegiance. The cease-fire at Geneva divided the country roughly in half, with the richer half going to the Communists. The pressmen, and they are growing in number, believe that through infiltration and other pressures the whole area will before too long be absorbed by Communism.

North Africa is far more important than any of the other pieces of geography the French have lost, and for a most significant reason: manpower. From six to seven French divisions have been sustained from recruits—virtually

Note 2—Another mistake may have been to talk publicly about an "agonizing reappraisal," instead of applying the pressure privately through diplomatic channels. Dulles' statement about an agonizing reappraisal was made largely to appease GOP isolationists on Capitol Hill. Unfortunately, when U.S. foreign policy is based on pleasing Congress it's not always good for the U. S.

TO FACE HIS ACCUSERS

The most important and significant TV hearing in years comes up before the Federal Communications Commission tomorrow, when Edward Lamb, owner of one of the most successful TV stations in the country, WIKK at Erie, Pa., will finally be able to face those who called him a Communist.

Lamb, a successful businessman and owner of various radio stations in addition to the Erie TV station, has already been unmercifully smeared by headline as a result of the FCC's preliminary charges. His name has been in the newspapers for months without a chance to answer.

Finally, and only when he took the matter before the Senate Interstate Commerce Committee did the FCC belatedly agree, after considerable nudging by the Senate Committee, that Lamb should have a chance to face his accusers. That chance comes tomorrow.

Meanwhile the FCC seems to have pulled in its horns regarding the charges against Lamb. Its first charge was that he had failed to tell the commission that he had been an active Communist in Lucas County, Ohio, between the years 1944 and 1948. This part of the accusation now has been dropped, and the FCC is now much more ambiguous in its charges.

Furthermore, William Cummings, an ex-Communist upon whom the FCC apparently relied originally for its charges against Lamb, has now stated: "I've never said under any condition that Ed Lamb was a member of the Communist party, and I wouldn't say it because I've never known him to be a member of the Communist party."

Lamb happens to have a recording of Cummings' conversation with Victor Ullman in which they discussed a prospective article for the Saturday Evening Post, and in which Cummings also threatened to bring some libel suits in order to get more publicity for himself and the prospective magazine article.

Garden Glances With The Moon

O, sweet September: the first breezes bring
The dry leaf's rustle and the squirrel's
laughing,
The cool, fresh air, whence health and vigor
spring.
And promise of exceeding joy hereafter.
—Lulu Bradley Cram

Mrs. Swingle

September's moon is on the wane and in the movable, fiery and very barren sign, Aries, today. A good day, my friends, to rid your lawn and garden of weeds. Pull and destroy them! Hard work? Indeed it is but it's one of the essential chores if one wants an orderly garden next year. Each little seed pod or head can produce hundreds of weeds for your special annoyance all through next year. The birds will help you, bless them, by feasting on the ripening seed. Due to August torrents, however, there seems to be an over-abundance of weeds and far too many seeds for the birds to have eaten them all before nature broadcasts the mature ones to the four winds.

Tomorrow morning at 7:41 the moon will enter the fixed, earthy sign, Taurus. Have you completed iris lifting and resetting? This is first begun in July just after their blooming period, but it was far too hot and dry for many of you to get it done then, so tomorrow and Thursday are good days for it. Also for planting any and all lilies, hyacinths, narcissus and daffodils. Madonna lilies and narcissus should have been planted last month and no doubt many of you did it between rains. But there are many who did not, so do it now.

Friday morning at three minutes of nine, the moon will enter the flexed, airy and barren sign, Gemini. This will give you two more glorious days for garden clean-up. Then Sunday morning near dawn, fourth lunar quarter will begin, and 15 minutes past midday (12 o'clock noon), September's rapidly decreasing moon will enter the movable, watery and exceedingly fruitful sign, Cancer, and traverse this fruitful phase by 6 o'clock next Tuesday evening.

I'll tell you what I have learned about the movable, fruitful sign, Cancer, if you care to listen.

DORIS FLEESON

EDC Failure Not The End

PARIS—A firm, unanimous and determined voice will arise here to combat any impression in the United States that all is lost in France including honor. It will come from the U.S. military, and the evidence they offer is impressive.

It has taken a long time and the cost has been astronomical, but North Atlantic treaty forces are dug into this country to a degree that would almost make an optimist out of Herbert Hoover. That so much flat, fertile farm land could have been wormed out of the French peasants by a government widely derided as weak and confused is amazing.

A tour of French defenses with Major-General Robert M. Lee, commander of the 12th Air Force, shows a crop of steel-sabre-jets, fighter-bombers, troop carriers, blooming in the fields all too well known to Americans as Verdun, St. Mihiel, Argonne, Etain. Confidential but doubtless known at least a degree to the Russians, are the support and communications lines to these and other bastions of the West.

Everything isn't peaches and cream. Housing for the Americans is the worst problem. Nobody has been able to think up a scheme that will induce Frenchmen to build quarters so far from the cities where they wish to live. The social facilities of a French village are both few and, from an American point of view, deplorable.

These are the problems of a cold war Army and Air Force. A certain reluctance on the part of Congress to believe that France is here to stay contributes largely to them. Housing is about the only form of reparations exacted from defeated Germany, and it is responsible for the American enclaves there to which is attached the jest of "golden ghettos."

France of course is an ally, and its business men—the target of the reforms Premier Mendes-France hopes to institute—seem to think risk capital is a dirty word. When Americans grow angry with the French for its nationalist rejection of EDC, they might think of Chaumont.

At Chaumont, a nationalist American of World War I, General Pershing, made his headquarters, having refused to break up his army for use with other forces. Today, Chaumont's broad acres have been turned over by the French to the Americans for the 48th fighter bomber wing, a unit available to NATO and commanded by Col. Chesley G. Peterson, an American who was a Spitfire pilot in the Battle of Britain. Internationalism does march on.

At NATO headquarters outside Paris, where the possible presidency of Dwight D. Eisenhower once lent a weighty ferment to its affairs, two experienced Ameri-

The Monstera Deliciosa, now in bloom at the university greenhouse at 12th and U Streets. . .

Things I want for permanency, I do not buy, plant, transplant or move in this movable sign, for they will neither remain nor sow seeds of annuals because they make quick growth and produce their fruits in one season and are gone. In the late summer and autumn, I choose this movable and fruitful sign for propagating "slips" of cuttings of house-plants, roses, phlox or many another perennial and by layering of plants with woody-stems. Here again one wants quick growth and a good root system for transplanting to another location or to pots, and Cancer in third or fourth quarter will produce just what you want. Why don't you try it?

Our picture today features Monstera Deliciosa, rather an interesting tropical plant now blooming in the greenhouse on the city campus of the University of Nebraska.

The greenhouse is just back of Bessey Hall on 12th and U Streets, should you care to see it with your own eyes, which is what I always like to do. Monstera is not particular as to soil and will thrive in pots and tubs in the greenhouse or in our modern houses with picture windows, and they do seem to have an affinity with modern decor. M. deliciosa (Philodendron pertusum) Ceriman; a straggling climber with long hanging, cord-like aerial roots and leaves to three feet long and wide, pinnately cut and perforated with large holes. The foot-long spathe are white and the 10-inch-long solid cone-like spadices are edible. And that is just what the natives of Mexico and Central America do—they eat the spadices of this variety and thus the name, "deliciosa." So until another day—

Guard Those Eyes

A new crop of joyous, clear-eyed freshmen are entering Nebraska's schools of higher learning. It is always uplifting to note the willingness of youth to cultivate the arts and the sciences in preparation for an improved world tomorrow. But there is a word of warning. Strict attention to the books is a health builder. Lack of it brings on an epidemic of eye trouble, especially noticeable among those going back home after the first semester final exams.

Constitution Changes Meet Set

Several persons interested in the constitutional amendments which will appear on Nebraska's November election ballot will get together informally in Lincoln Tuesday, State Sen. Otto Liebers said.

The possibilities of some kind of a campaign to push for approval of the amendments will be discussed, he indicated.

Sen. Liebers heads the Legislative Council's taxation committee, which recommended last spring's special legislative session to consider proposed amendments dealing with taxation. Five proposed amendments came out of that special session. Three others had been voted onto the ballot at the regular 1953 session.

Sen. Liebers said his Legislative Council Committee has been meeting regularly and has been giving some attention to the legislation which might follow enactment of the amendments.

Gray Sentenced To 2-Year Term

Herbert W. Gray, 42, of 1745 Garfield was sentenced to two years in the State Reformatory for forgery after pleading guilty Monday in Lancaster District Court to revocation of probation.

In his plea, Gray admitted violating terms of his probation by failure to report since May to the adult probation officer and by theft of $186 from his landlady, Mrs. Herta Grone.

Gray had been placed on two years probation in June, 1953, after sentence was suspended on a forged check charge.

Judge Harry Spencer ordered Gray to make restitution to Mrs. Grone of $41. The rest was recovered by police.

How can a beginner learn about stocks?

CARL GLEASON,
Pres. Inv. Agcy.,
Boston, Mass.

Actually I'm a beginner myself. I just began the Monthly Investment Plan that lets me buy stocks for as little as $40 a month. With a little common sense and my broker's advice, I hope my dividends will average about 6% a year.

ROBERT MOREL,
Vice Pres.,
Buffalo, N. Y.

You don't have to be experienced to buy stocks successfully. As long as you avoid unknown stocks, get the facts before you buy, and listen to your broker's advice, you ought to be able to form intelligent buying opinions right from the start.

Some investors are interested only in stocks which have paid 6% or more. Others are willing to take 4% if continued payments seem more certain. Still others want stocks they expect to rise in market value. You need the facts before you invest.

Member Firms of the New York Stock Exchange have at their finger tips information on the companies listed on the Exchange. They will be glad to discuss with you, without obligation, the opportunities, as well as the risks, of investing in stocks.

Steam Plant Dispute Involves All Power Systems

Tri-County Joins Defendants

By the Associated Press
All producers and distributors of power in the state now are involved in the dispute concerning the proposed construction of a steam plant by the Nebraska Public Power System.

District Judge Emerson Kokjer of Wahoo said the Central Nebraska Power and Irrigation System (Tri-County) has been added to the list of defendants in the action brought by what is termed the "Custer County group" to prevent issuance of bonds for the plant's construction.

There are 62 defendants in the case including the NPPS, Consumers Public Power District, Tri-County, and the rural electric systems not included in the Custer group.

New Petition Necessary
Judge Kokjer ruled at Columbus last week that the Custer County group must file a new petition or petitions, separating the various issues in the case.

The Custer County group has until Sept. 23 to file a new petition, and the defendants have 20 days in which to reply to it.

The NPPS had planned to build a $17,600,000 steam plant near Beatrice and had contracted with the John Nuveen Co. of Chicago to purchase the bonds.

When the legal suit was instituted, the Chicago firm refused to accept the bonds. All obligations between the firm and the NPPS now have been cancelled, a spokesman for the NPPS said.

Vance Reininger, Columbus, an associate of NPPS Attorney Otto Walter, said he does not know whether the bonds will be sold again but added that the final disposition of the legal hearing "might have a bearing on that decision."

The Custer County group consists of five rural electric systems—the Custer Public Power District, the Elkhorn Rural Public Power District, the Franklin County Electric Corp., the Twin Valley Public Power District, and the Wayne County Public Power District.

Reininger said the controversy centers around Consumers' plans to begin production of power. Previously, Consumers had limited its activities to distributing power.

Reininger claimed the "Consumers group was 'bound' to receive all of its power from NPPS."

However, I. D. Evans, Custer Public Power District attorney, said the Consumers-NPPS controversy is "only incidental" to the suit.

Evans said the failure of the NPPS budget board to approve the issuance of the bonds before they were sold is an important factor in the suit.

Several factors are listed in the petition submitted by the Custer group.

But Evans added, "of course, if Consumers has a plant, there would be no reason for the construction of the NPPS plant."

Farmer Injured As Tractor Upsets
CENTER, Neb. (AP)—Ed Hartsock, 61, Center farmer, was severely injured Monday when the tractor he was driving upset on him in a ditch near here.

Hartsock was knocked unconscious and suffered head, face and chest injuries. He is in a Creighton hospital.

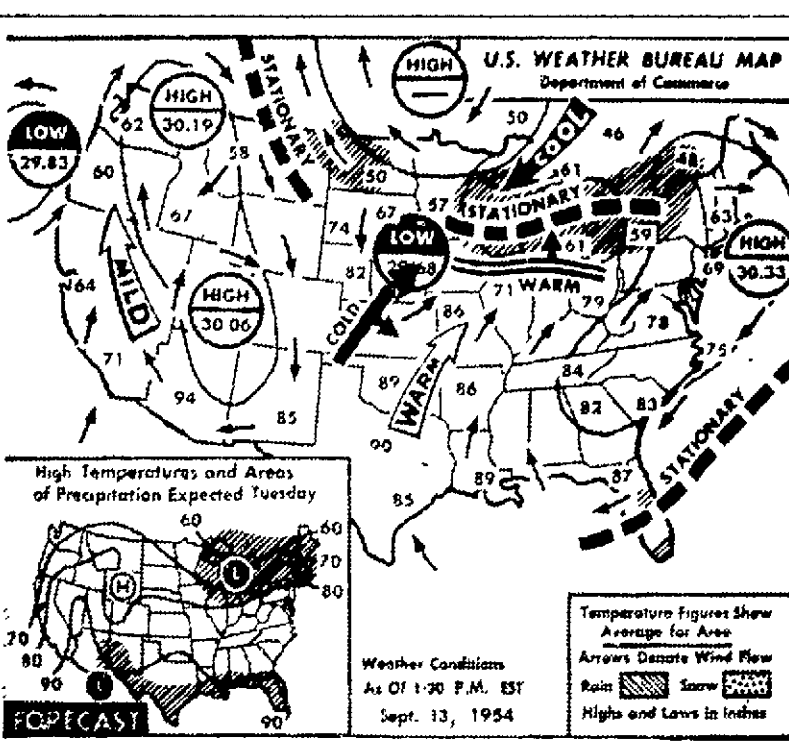

Russell Halverson, a neighbor who saw the accident, had to get help to lift the tractor off Hartsock.

Hall County Jail Is Ready For Use
GRAND ISLAND, Neb. (AP)—The new $165,000 Hall County jail here has been completed.

Started in April, the new two-story structure was built around and adjoining the old structure, which had been in use since 1902.

Part of the old jail was condemned by the state fire marshal in 1953.

The new jail can hold 49 prisoners—and is equipped with separate facilities for detaining juveniles and mental cases.

North Platte, Fremont Bid Openings Set

Bids on a new National Guard armory at North Platte will be opened Oct. 15, and bids on a similar armory at Fremont will be opened Oct. 11, the office of Maj. Gen. Guy Henninger, adjutant general, disclosed Monday.

General Henninger, who was in Washington, reported approval of the Oct. 15 date for North Platte in a telephone call to his office. The bid openings are scheduled for 2 p.m. in the office of the purchasing agent at the capitol here.

Plans and specifications for the two armories had been approved earlier.

2-Story Building

North Platte's armory, designed to take care of two guard units, will be a full two story brick building.

Fremont's armory will house one unit, and will be two story in part, also of brick construction.

Other armories over Nebraska are in various stages of construction.

The Holdrege armory is 65 per cent complete, the state office said. Grand Island's is 45 per cent complete; Scottsbluff's is "well started" and the contract for an armory at Gering probably will be signed next week.

The new armory at Hastings already is occupied.

Marks 101st Birthday

Mrs. Frank Johnson, Holdrege's oldest resident, has reached the age of 101. The occasion was marked with four generations of her family visiting with her. She makes her home with a daughter, Mrs. Lulu Titus of Holdrege. A son, Tannis, resides in Fort Collins, Colo.

Additional Highway Fatalities Boost State's '54 Total To 221

By The Associated Press
Nebraska's 1954 traffic death toll stood at 221 Monday after week-end accidents had taken the lives of four persons. A year ago at this time the state figure was 213.

Two other Nebraskans died in a rash of accidents in Iowa.

Funeral services were held Monday at Harvard, Neb., for August Hoffman, 75, retired farmer who was fatally injured when his car struck a tree in Harvard.

The weekend victims: Willie Felton, 32, Omaha. Rev. Francis X. Reilly, 80, Omaha.

Erwin Dreuppel, 24, Columbus. Wayne Allenman, 17, Omaha. Alfred Brackett, 43, Omaha. Vernon S. Lewis, 68, Auburn.

The State Safety Patrol said Lewis was killed 6.7 miles south of Nebraska City on U. S. Highway 73-75.

The accident occurred, the patrol said, after a semi-trailer truck turned into a drive along the highway then rolled back onto the road when its engine stalled.

Wedge Under Trailer
The Lewis car was wedged under the trailer.

Harold L. Jespersen, Omaha, driver of the truck, said he was trying to turn around to go back and help another truck which was stalled a short distance north.

Lewis was returning from a family reunion in Council Bluffs.

Felton, a cab driver, died of injuries suffered in a two-car crash in Omaha.

The Rev. Reilly, who was associated with Creighton University, was injured fatally when he was struck by a car driven by Be-her for a few minutes. Her husband and their children were not touched by the lightning.

PERU—A group of 29 citizens turned out here with shovels and the firehose to give the two downtown blocks a thorough cleaning. Cafe operator Bob Applegate furnished coffee to all the volunteers.

DeWITT—William Simpkins, farmer southwest of here, was injured while moving weeds along the road near his farm home. Apparently he blacked out for a short time, as he is unable to recall just how he was injured. He suffered a broken vertebra at the back of his neck.

WESTERN—Mrs. Vern Larkins was elected president of the Western Band Mothers Club. Other officers are Mrs. Walden Wieggers, vice president, and Mrs. C. Miller, secretary-treasurer.

Gering Among Possible Sites

FORT MORGAN, Colo. (AP)—Gering, Neb., is one of three points still under consideration as the site for a 10½ million power generating plant to serve Colorado, Wyoming and Nebraska.

Marion Wilson, president of the Tri-State Generation and transmission Assn., said the sites besides Gering were Pine Bluffs, Wyo., and Fort Morgan of Brush, Colo.

The Wyoming site, located between Cheyenne, Wyo., and Sidney, Neb., appears to be the more likely, Wilson said, because of the ease with which coal from the state's mines could be transported by rail.

Lists Factors
"Fuel for the generating plant, and an adequate supply of water, are the two most important determining factors," he said.

Wilson estimated about 500 gallons of water a minute would be required to meet the plant's needs. Its first unit would turn out about 22,000 kilowatts of power, he added.

The subject of possible plant sites came under discussion at a meeting of the Tri-State membership in Cheyenne, Wyo. Twenty-four of the group's 25 members were present.

Need for the plant came about after a notice by the bureau of reclamation to the effect that Rural Electrification Administration co-ops in the three-state area would require more power than now is planned by the bureau by 1956 or 1957, Wilson said.

Services Are Held For Centenarian
WAYNE, Neb.—Funeral services for Henry F. Straight, 100-year-old former Wayne resident, were held here Monday afternoon. He died at Fertile, Minn., where he had been visiting his daughter, Mrs. Norma Bakken.

Born at Washburn, Ind., he later lived in Missouri, Iowa and Nebraska. He farmed for a number of years near Wayne.

Surviving are 13 sons and daughters, 37 grandchildren and 59 great grandchildren.

Student Strikes Mark Attempt To End W. Virginia Segregation

Washington Schools Open On New Plan

By The Associated Press

Strikes by about 400 white students Monday marked attempts by West Virginia school officials to follow the U. S. Supreme Court's decision voiding racial segregation in public schools.

In the District of Columbia, however, schools opened without incident with Negro and white pupils in the same classrooms. New pupils totaled 16,000 in the nation's capital and all were enrolled according to new nonracial boundary maps.

Segregation ended quietly and almost unnoticed in a small town in Arkansas, one of the Confederate states, three weeks ago. Newsmen learned Monday that eleven Negro children were integrated into white classes at Charleston, a town of 968 east of Fort Smith, in west Arkansas.

H. M. Orsburn, president of the Charleston school board, said, "We put it up to the taxpayers on a money saving basis. If integration hadn't taken place we would have had to spend a lot of money on Negro schools."

Students at the White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., High School began a protest parade through the city streets at 7:30 a. m. Some 300 of the 440 enrollment milled in the streets while school officials met with 200 parents protesting the shifting of 23 Negro students from Bolling High School at Lewisburg to the previously all-white school. Educators in West Virginia had said earlier they expected no trouble in making the shift from segregated schools.

It was reported that about 100 of between 800 and 900 students at Rupert, in the same county, were striking because 14 Negroes were enrolled.

In Washington, some white pupils had Negro teachers and some Negro pupils were instructed by white persons.

Amendment OK'd

In Richmond, Gov. Thomas B. Stanley of Virginia told a 32-member legislative Commission on Public Education he still planned to use every legal means at his command to preserve segregation in the schools.

In Mississippi, the Constitution Committee of the state Senate approved a constitutional amendment empowering the Legislature to abolish public schools if necessary in the fight to keep segregation. The House-approved measure is expected to be considered on the floor Tuesday.

The Anniston, Ala., branch of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People handed the city Board of Education a petition with 43 signers calling for an immediate end to segregation in Anniston schools.

Peiping Claims Reds Sentenced Chief American Spy In China

... U.S. Tags Communist Story False

TOKYO (Tuesday) — Peiping radio asserted today that Hugh Francis Redmond of New York City, given a life sentence by the Communists, was "the chief American spy" in Red China.

The State Department in Washington said Redmond was engaged in legitimate business when he was arrested.

Peiping followed yesterday's announcement that Redmond, 34, had been given a life sentence with a call for "intensified vigilance against espionage and sabotage by agents sent by the United States" and Nationalist China.

"This case has once again exposed to the world the sinister intentions of the American aggressors against the Chinese people," said a broadcast which quoted People's Daily, official Communist newspaper.

Old Charges
Five Chinese men and two Chinese women were sentenced with Redmond, two of them to die.

Another broadcast described "crimes of U. S. spies." It brought up all the old charges made when Redmond was arrested in Shanghai April 26, 1951.

The charges were that Redmond belonged to "External Survey Detachment 44," which Peiping described as "a U. S. government espionage service."

Actually, Redmond was a businessman who remained behind when the Communists took over. Mrs. Ruth Redmond, his mother, said at Yonkers, N. Y., that he went to China for the New York Import-export firm of Henningsen Bros.

China interests of the Henningsen Produce Co., of New York, said he did not believe the spy charges but that he knew Redmond only through business dealings.

Money From Priests
Harrison said he left Shanghai in May 1949, just before the Reds took over. He returned to the United States in 1950 from Hong Kong. He said he had tried to communicate with Redmond, but had been unsuccessful, and he did not know whether Redmond was still alive until he read reports of his sentencing.

Peiping said that Redmond in 1950 received money from three American priests in Shanghai, all three of whom were arrested, presumably at the time Redmond was picked up in 1951.

They were listed as John Houle, Glendale, Calif.; Joseph McCormack, New York City, and Thomas Phillips, Butte, Mont. All three are among the Americans for whose release the State Department has been negotiating. A fellow priest who reached Hong Kong last April said the three were in a Shanghai jail and were in "fair health" the last time he saw them.

Mrs. Freda McAfee of Talmage. The wedding will take place in mid-October. Miss Parks is a graduate of Nebraska Wesleyan University. Mr. McAfee will be graduated in January from the University of Nebraska.

Coed Has Afternoon Ceremony

White and orchid-toned chrysanthemums and gladioli florets arranged in pedestal urns, and lighted white candles, appointed the chancel of the First Presbyterian Church at Central City for the marriage of Miss Marlene McCullough, daughter of Mrs. Roy McCullough of Central City, and Robert Otte, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Otte of Neligh, on Sunday afternoon Sept. 12. The 4 o'clock ceremony was solemnized by the Rev. Henry H. Wybenga, assisted by the Rev. Robert McLeod.

The wedding music was played by Mrs. Elgin White of Central City, organist, who also accompanied Miss Suzanne Enyeart of Lincoln as she sang "Ave Maria" and "The Lord's Prayer."

As her sister's matron of honor, Mrs. Thomas Hord of Central City, appeared in a waltz-length frock of royal purple taffeta. The off-shoulder bodice was accented at the back by a large bow of the taffeta, and the sheath skirt was caught into a modified bustle. She wore a nose veil of frock-toned illusion, and carried a crescent of white and pink pompons. Costumed identically were the bridesmaids, Mrs. James Asmussen of Neligh and Mrs. Allen C. Hansen of Omaha, in burgundy taffeta, and the bridesmaids, Miss Williamette Desch of York and Miss Carol Thompson of Omaha, in rose taffeta. Wearing pink taffeta was the flower girl, Miss Mary Michael Geren of Central City.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Thomas F. Hord of Central City, and wore for her wedding a gown of white imported lace and satin. The molded lace bodice was designed with long, fitted sleeves and a portrait neckline and was detailed with bandings of satin. The banded motif was repeated on the satin skirt, which was shirred into fullness beneath a peplum of the lace and extended into a train. A cap of tulle flowers edged with seed pearls held her veil of silk illusion, and she carried a white Bible ornamented with an orchid and showered with Stephanotis.

Donald Otte of Neligh served as best man, and seating the guests were Allen Curtiss of Hyannis, James Asmussen of Neligh, Wayne Knapp of Harlingen, Tex., and Allen Hansen of Omaha. Daniel Hord, nephew of the bride, and Steven Otte, nephew of the bridegroom, were ringbearers.

Brownell, Hoover Ask Reds To Step Forward And Talk

Witnesses Promised Immunity

PLYMOUTH, Mass. (INS) — Attorney General Herbert Brownell Jr. and FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover appealed to American Communists Monday to help "destroy" the Red conspiracy by breaking with the party and telling the government all they know about it.

Brownell pointed out that those who do come to the G-men will be granted immunity under the new law which permits the government to forego prosecution of witnesses who answer questions about crimes of subversion.

In an address to the General Society of Mayflower Descendants at Plymouth, the attorney general declared: "We know of persons enmeshed in the tools of the Communist conspiracy who have waited to break with that conspiracy once they learned its real purposes."

"These persons have wanted desperately to resume their normal place in society. But they have been under the impression that if they went to the FBI and told their story they themselves inevitably would be subject to prosecution."

"Aiding Enemy" This false impression, he said, has been spread by Communist Party leaders to keep members in line.

Brownell quoted Hoover as saying a Communist who quits the party but remains silent about the conspiracy is still "aiding the enemy."

The FBI chief added: "Now is the time for those who love America to step forward and be counted. Now is the time for those who erred and who realized they erred to declare themselves."

The dramatic appeal by the nation's top law enforcement officials followed their report to President Eisenhower at Denver that the justice department is out to destroy the Communist Party in the U. S. "utterly."

Hoover also disclosed at Denver that "a number of approaches" have been made to the FBI by Communists who want to tell the government what they know about the party under the witness immunity law and that some of these would-be informants have already been interviewed.

Hoover's statement read by Brownell at Plymouth said: "The telephone number of an FBI office appears on the cover of each telephone book in the nation. Any persons willing to come forward and tell what they know about the conspiracy and its leaders need only to telephone the nearest office, or they can contact me in Washington."

Testimony On Channel 7 TV Request Taken

WASHINGTON (AP)—The first oral testimony was taken Monday in a two-day trial for television Channel 7 at Omaha, Neb.

Joe W. Seacrest, a vice president and director of KFAB Broadcasting Co., owner of an Omaha radio station, was on the stand the entire day at a communications commission hearing on the two applications.

Competing with KFAB for the channel is the Herald Corp. owned by the World Publishing Co., publisher of the Omaha World-Herald.

Seacrest gave direct testimony—mainly about his various business and civic activities and his duties in the broadcasting company—and then underwent cross-examination which will continue Tuesday.

Seacrest is co-publisher with his brother, Fred S. Seacrest, of the Lincoln, Neb., Journal, and is an officer of the Journal-Star Printing Co., one of the principal owners of KFAB. The two largest stockholders of the station are the Journal-Star Printing Co. and Sides Co. of Omaha.

Though Monday's proceeding developed the first oral testimony in the case, much written evidence has been put into the record during prehearing conferences the past several weeks. The prehearing conferences were developed by the commission as a means of speeding hearings on rival television applications.

George E. Smith, KFAB attorney, said he expected his next witness would be Victor Toft, president of the broadcasting company. Toft is expected to take the stand sometime Tuesday after the cross-examination of Seacrest is concluded.

His appointment was announced by Merle M. Hale and Harold Hines, chairman of the Chest and Red Cross campaign.

Thompson has been an active Chest worker in campaigns since returning from war time service. In the campaign during the fall of 1951 he was colonel of business and professional division of the employees solicitation. In 1952 and 1953 he served as a leader in the advance gifts division. He is at present serving as vice president of the board of directors of the Chest.

"We are pleased to have the experienced successful leadership of Jack Thompson," Hale said, "for this important United Campaign of the Chest and Red Cross. The advance gifts division solicits in advance of the general solicitation to be held in October. It secures approximately 50 per cent of the total goal from business firms, corporations, professional leaders, etc. It solicits 900 prospects with 150 solicitors to do the job in soliciting the larger gifts."

The first meeting of the group was held Monday when distribution of prospect cards was made.

Thompson has appointed six vice chairmen to assist him in the division of work. They are E. L. Smith, James Ackerman, Harold Schimm, Dr. Everett E. Angle, Jack Stewart, Dr. Wallace Webster.

These in turn have appointed their captains who are Ray Osborn, Wheaton Battey, W. W. Putney, Al DuTeau, Clarence Hinds, John K. Selleck, J. E. Curtis, Burham Yates, Bert Reed, Harry R. Haynie, John Campbell, Dick Joyce, Albert Held.

Tuesday noon a special meeting of the workers in the division representing attorneys, physicians and dentists will meet to receive prospects. They are headed up by Jack Stewart representing attorneys, Dr. Everett Angle and Dr. Maurice D. Frazer, Physicians, and Dr. Wallace Webster, dentists.

'Joy-Riding' Airman Gets $100 Fine, Jail James K. McBride, 20, of 1320 G, was sentenced to three months in the county jail and fined $100 after he pleaded guilty Monday in Lancaster County Court to a joy-riding charge.

McBride, who "borrowed" a car owned by Aze Denzil Ingram while it was parked in downtown Lincoln, explained in court he "shorted the locked ignition with tinfoil," a trick he said he "learned in Detroit."

McBride said he had a car of his own, but it had been impounded by police for being on the streets without registration.

Judge Herbert Ronin noted that McBride was not eligible for probation, but imposed the "minimum penalty" under the serious misdemeanor charge.

McBride had been placed on one-year probation in Lancaster Court in December, 1950, on petit larceny charge.

A companion also picked up by police with McBride, was released by the county attorney's office.

Jackson recalled that his lodge had been represented at meetings of the Governor's Traffic Safety Committee. He said lodge leaders concluded it would promote traffic safety to "remind people in their driving to be courteous."

Water Expansion Program Enters Its Final Stages

... Plans Approved For $857,000 Improvements At Ashland Treatment Plant

By BILL DOBLER
Star Staff Writer

The city's current water system expansion program moved into its final stages with City Council approval of plans, specifications and a total $857,300 estimate for three projects at the Ashland plant.

The largest of the three contracts to be let calls for construction of 19,904 linear feet of 16- to 48-inch pipe line from the expanded Ashland well field site into the treatment plant. This work is estimated at $788,000.

Another of the three projects is the estimated $45,300 construction of an electric transmission line from the Omaha Public Power District into the Ashland treatment plant. The third contract will be the estimated $23,800 construction of electrical control and communication system for the well field pumps and treatment plant.

To be completed by April 15, 1955, these three projects will complete the work at Ashland with one exception. Plans will be filed shortly on the final Ashland contract—an estimated $50,000 to $60,000 construction of pump houses.

All this is work that must be completed before the facilities of the new 48-inch Ashland to Lincoln transmission line can be utilized. This line is also scheduled to be completed by April 15 but is currently running ahead of schedule in construction.

Plans, specifications and estimate of cost on another big project will be filed next Monday. This is the estimated $376,334 construction of a 36-inch pipe line from the 51st Street booster and distribution station to the Merrill Street station.

At its termination point, the big new main will feed into the Air Base water main and the main serving sections in Northwest Lincoln. This is a part of the overall program calling for 51st Street as a distribution center for all of Lincoln north of O.

MICHIGAN PAIR GETS SHOWER OF NICKELS—THOUSANDS OF 'EM

MT. PLEASANT, Mich. (AP)—Not since oil was struck here in the midst of the depression has there been such excitement in this Michigan city of 11,393. And another bonanza is the cause.

This time it is a deluge of nickels. Then it was Michigan's first gushing oil field.

Postmaster Raymond Hooker estimated 32,000 letters came in Monday's mail for young Mrs. Margaret Deibel and her red-haired, appliance salesman husband, Charles. And Hooker predicted Tuesday's mail likely would bring 50,000 to add to the total of 75,000 already on hand.

Walt Deibel, Charlie's brother, reported the first few score envelopes opened usually had two or more nickels in them. Some had a dollar.

Lincoln Man Admits $125 Check Forgery

Jack L. Warne, 24, of 2234 Sheldon, pleaded guilty Monday in Lancaster District Court to forgery of a $125 check.

Warne was charged with uttering on Sept. 4 a forged check with the name of "D. E. Warne" attached. He said the check form was used in a business, once operated by his father.

Judge Harry Spencer deferred sentence pending an investigation by the adult probation officer.

IKE TO HAVE NEW PLANE

DENVER (INS) — President Eisenhower Monday inspected the new Super Constellation which will soon replace the Columbine as his personal plane and pronounced himself highly satisfied with the sleek aircraft.

The four-engine plane, now undergoing a "shakedown," is longer, faster and outfitted with more communications equipment than the Columbine.

It cruises at about 325 miles an hour, 50 miles faster than the Columbine, and is 18 feet longer.

The President made his first inspection tour of the craft while seeing Mrs. Moore and her two children off, and remarked: "By golly, isn't that a ship?"

Work, No Fat Best Plan To Avoid Heart Disease

By THOMAS J. FOLEY

WASHINGTON (INS)—Some of the world's greatest heart specialists said in substance Monday that those who work hard and avoid fatty foods stand the best chance of escaping heart disease.

The doctors, attending the opening session of the World Congress of Cardiology and the American Heart Association, agreed that this is not a hard and fast rule. But they said more and more evidence points in that direction.

Other developments at the initial meeting:

1. The doctors said a world census of heart ailments is badly needed to determine why incidence is so much higher in some areas than in others.

New Operation

2. Dr. Arthur Vineberg, a Canadian, described a new operation which is meeting with success. It involves transplanting an artery from the upper chest to the heart's main pumping chamber to relieve the severe pain of angina pectoris.

3. Dr. J. N. Morris of London, noted that English bus drivers are more susceptible to heart disease than bus conductors and suggested that physical activity and "stress" have much to do with the problem.

4. A New York specialist, Dr. Bruno Kisch, reported on a powerful new electronic microscope which, he said, disclosed the existence of great masses of tiny structures known as sarcomeres in the heart muscle. Long unknown to science, the sarcomeres enable the heart to go on beating ceaselessly without tiring like other organs.

War Effect

Dr. Angel Keys of the University of Minnesota led the discussion on the suggested census.

The question of the effect of fatty foods on the heart system was the focus of the discussions. Dr. Gunnar Bjork of Sweden noted that the rate of heart disease dropped sharply in Scandinavian countries during the war when there was a forced reduction in the amount of fat foods in the diet.

He said the same happened in The Netherlands and Germany at the end of the war but not in the U.S. where the fat content of the diet had not fallen. England had a slight drop in heart disease deaths during a period of somewhat lower fat diets.

Dr. J. Higginson of South Africa pointed up the conclusion by noting that extensive research among the Bantu tribes in his country showed very little heart disease and a very low diet of fats.

A Japanese doctor, Professor Noburo Kimura, said a study of 10,000 Japanese bears out what has long been suspected about Far Eastern populations—that the low incidence of heart disease is related to the diet, which includes few fatty foods.

City Council Names Thomas Gorham Assistant Attorney For Prosecutions

Attorney Thomas J. Gorham, 37, has been appointed by the City Council as assistant attorney in charge of prosecutions.

Gorham will succeed John Binning who leaves the city position for a post in the state attorney general's office. Gorham has been associated since his admission to the bar in 1952 with Attorneys Lester Dunn and Ralph Slocum.

Gorham will serve from Sept. 15, 1954 to March 1, 1955 at an annual salary of $2,750 and at $3,250 thereafter. The position is part-time.

Gorham is single and a graduate of the University of Nebraska College of Law.

The Gorham announcement was verification of a reported change in organization of the city legal department as it had earlier been determined. Previously, plans called for two full-time attorneys only.

The two full-time positions will be filled, said Mayor Clark Jeary, in addition to the part-time assistant's job.

City Attorney John H. Cornstock has announced he will not accept the full-time head city attorney job which he has held to date on a part-time basis. His position on a full-time scale is expected to be filled by present Deputy Jack M. Pace.

Thus, the Council must yet find a man for the full-time deputy job that remains open.

White Hot Death

DORTMUND, West Germany (INS)—A 30-year-old foundry worker leaped onto a white-hot metal block which had been lowered into a soaking pit in a plant at Hoerde, near Dortmund. Seconds later there was no trace of the worker, Rudolf Wittke, left on the surface of the block which was heated to 2,300 degrees Fahrenheit. A crane operator who witnessed the death leap was taken to a hospital suffering from shock.

Disaster Areas Tagged In Maine

DENVER (INS)—President Eisenhower Monday declared parts of Maine, which suffered heavy damage in the recent hurricanes Carol and Edna, major disaster areas eligible for emergency federal aid.

A specific allocation of funds will await completion of a survey by the Civil Defense Administration on the extent of the damage.

Mr. Eisenhower announced his action in a telegram to Gov. Burton M. Cross, who requested federal assistance.

$4,348 Injury-Damage Filed In District Court

A $4,348 injury-property damage suit has been filed in Lancaster District Court by John H. Muchmore of Independence, Ia., against Ben McAllister of Imperial.

Suit arises out of an alleged two-truck accident Nov. 4, 1952, one mile west of Friend on U. S. 6. Muchmore alleges failure and negligence of defendant's employee to pull the McAllister truck clear off the highway and to provide warning flares for the parked truck.

Muchmore seeks $3,000 for alleged injuries received in the accident and $1,380 for property and other damages.

Governor To Fill Vacancy Tuesday

Gov. Robert Crosby said he probably would move Tuesday to fill the Douglas County District Court vacancy left by the recent resignation of Jackson B. Chase.

Chase quit the bench to campaign for the second district congressional seat which Rep. Roman Hruska is leaving to run for the Senate.

The Judicial District Bar Association suggested five names to the governor. They are Patrick W. Lynch, James P. O'Brien Jr., George N. Mecham, Joseph Votava and Herbert T. White.

Both political parties are represented in the list. The office is non-political.
